

NYC WATER & CLIMATE 2018

A NIGHT OF STORIES, SCIENCE, AND NETWORKING

An official Climate Week NYC Event

SEPTEMBER 27
6:00 - 8.30PM

WEWORK DUMBO HEIGHTS (LABS)
81 PROSPECT STREET
BROOKLYN, NY

TICKETS

$25 INCLUDES

Food, beverages, prizes, drinking water taste test, virtual DJ, and rooftop closing reception. First 50 receive a free travel collapsible water/ coffee cup courtesy of Stoj.

CLIMATE CHANGE AND WATER ARE INEXTRICABLY LINKED

What we do with water in cities can impact climate change, and climate change can impact water and exacerbate water scarcity in cities where people are already lacking access to safe drinking water. Therefore, Cobalt Water Global is organizing a water charity event to make these links, share what is being done in NYC and globally in terms of climate change mitigation and urban water, and inform citizens on how they can better use water to help mitigate climate change.

This event will bring together water and non-water professionals, tech leaders, and entrepreneurs to brainstorm on how to tackle the water and climate change nexus. There will also be brief talks (AI and IoT for climate change mitigation/adaptation in the water sector and utilizing federal resources for community-based adaptation). The night will conclude on our rooftop with amazing views of the whole city.

All proceeds will be donated to Charity Water, who is bringing safe drinking water to people in developing countries.

SPONSORS

EAT OFFBEAT

wework

R VAGY DESIGN